

Easier, faster React development with

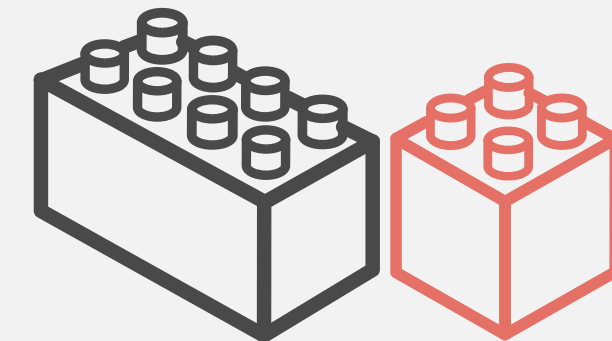

Components Store

The problem

What is a Component

- Independent UI chunk
- Describes a specific behaviour
- Defined in isolation
- Has its own styling

Why Components?

- Separation of concerns
- Components are easier to construct and configure
- Components are easier to manage
- Components are implicitly easier to unit test
- Components facilitate advanced application architectures without modifying code

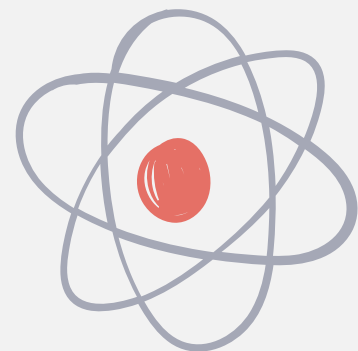

Why Reusable Components

- Consistency
- Efficiency
- Collaboration
- Cross-platform
- Enforced architecture
- Future-friendly
- Self-contained
- Scalable
- Faster Development
- Fewer bugs

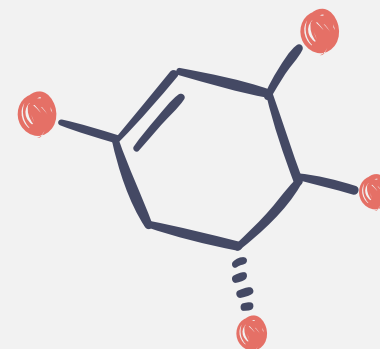

“A ship, a building and a car are merely collections of components”

Federico Holgado, Lead UX@Mailchimp
